Don't miss today's block of educational broadcast programming on the WGBH and WGBY WORLD CHANNELS, for middle and high school students. We're highlighting meteors, Yellowstone, The Great War, and Luther and the Reformation. See the schedule for programming for the rest of the week. Programming for younger students is available much of the day on WGBH 2, 44, and the 24/7 Kids app.

- Healthy Choices

Nutrition: What Your Body Needs

In this self-paced lesson, students develop their literacy skills through a science focus on personal health and the importance of making good food choices. They will read informational text, learn and practice vocabulary words, and explore content through videos and interactive activities. Grades 6-12

How the Body Responds to Exercise

In this resource from NOVA scienceNOW, learn about the the effect of exercise on the body, how the entire cardiovascular system benefits from exercise, and how the body's response to the demands of physical activity is a survival mechanism. Grades 5-8

Making the Case for Health

Students develop and present an evidence-based argument about a change they would like to bring about at their school to make it a healthier place for all students. In this interactive lesson designed for both full-class and individual or small-group work, students examine a similar effort, chronicled in BASIC BLACK: Youth Fighting Fat. Grades 5-8
