Overview Materials for Week of May 25 Broadcasts

Below are links to overview materials for the special World Channel Educational Broadcast blocks during the week of May 25. This block of programming is provided as a resource for students in grades 6-12 with little or no internet access, and can also be used to augment digital materials being used for at-home learning.

As announced previously, the webinar overviews are no longer live, but are now pre-recorded to watch at your convenience. The overview webinars will continue through June 15.

Here are links to the presentation slides, the RESOURCE DOCUMENT, and the overview recording for the week of May 25. We think the resource document is particularly helpful because it highlights the curriculum topics (in red) and provides a variety of links to useful resources. We've conveniently tucked everything into a Google folder.

If you have a question that is not answered by the Resource Document, feel free to send it to education@wgbh.org.

The Educational Broadcast block on the World Channel will continue at least through summer 2020.
