Dear Wareham Families,

Wareham Public Schools need your help as we work to keep schools open for students.

Wareham has moved into the red zone. Thankfully to date, we have not had any COVID transmissions occur in our schools. Unfortunately, a small number of staff and students are currently quarantining due to contracting the virus elsewhere.

Our district is working diligently to keep students safe and protected during the school day. Still, we need your help outside of school and respectfully request our families remain vigilant with health protocols. We want to keep our schools open, and we need everyone to be safe. I understand this may mean sacrificing a social activity, staying home, or canceling plans, and it seems like we have made many sacrifices in recent months. But we cannot protect those in our schools without your help.

Keeping everyone safe takes a community effort. Please continue to do your part.

Thank you.

Dr. Kimberly B. Shaver-Hood
Superintendent of Schools
